

SHAFR 2017 Annual Meeting
22-24 June 2017, Arlington, VA

THURSDAY, 22 JUNE 2017

SHAFR Council meeting: 8:00 AM – 12:45 PM, Studio A

SHAFR Teaching Committee: 8:00 – 10:00 AM, Boardroom

Registration: 10:00 AM – 4:00 PM, Second Floor Reception Area

Book Exhibit: 10:00 AM – 5:30 PM, Second Floor Reception Area

The SHAFR Teaching Committee invites you to visit our table in the exhibit room to learn more about and to contribute to Voices and Visions, a collaborative project between SHAFR and the University of Wisconsin. Curated by historians, Voices and Visions functions as a permanently archived primary source reader that highlights multimedia videos, sound recordings, and images relevant to various topics in U.S. foreign relations in the twentieth century.

Law Library of Congress Legal Research Training: 9:30 – 11:30 AM (Studio B)

Co-sponsored by Emory University School of Law

Librarians from the Law Library of Congress will provide free legal research training for SHAFR Conference attendees. Participants will learn about legal research methods; the Law Library's extensive holdings in United States, foreign, and international law; and ways to access online legal resources relevant to SHAFR members.

SESSION I: 11:45 AM – 1:30 PM (PANELS 1 - 11)

Panel 1: Human Rights and U.S. Foreign Relations: Methods and Interpretations (Salon 7)

Chair: Christopher McKnight Nichols, Oregon State University

"A Human Rights Policy Means Trouble": The Transformation of Human Rights in the Age of Reagan

William Michael Schmidli, Bucknell University

Human Rights, Internationalism, and the Early Conservative Movement, 1949-1960

Joseph P. Renouard, The Citadel

Food Power: The Intersection between Aid and Human Rights during the Carter Administration

Kristin L. Ahlberg, Office of the Historian, Department of State

Comment: Steven B. Jensen, The Danish Institute for Human Rights

Panel 2: The Global Nuclear Order and the Limits of International Control (Salon 1)

Chair: Toshihiro Higuchi, Georgetown University

A Network of Nuclear Experts: Exporting Research Reactors in the Eisenhower Era
Mara Drogan, Siena College

Controlling People, Controlling Knowledge: The Early Development of Nuclear Safeguards
Anna Weichselbraun, Stanford University

Parallel and Autonomous Nuclear Development in Brazil and Argentina under Military Rule, 1975-1985
Christopher Dunlap, University of Chicago

Comment: Benoit Pelopidas, Sciences Po–Université Sorbonne Paris Cité

Panel 3: Working between Publics and Government Powers: Private Contributions to Cold War Public Diplomacy (Salon 2)

Chair: Liping Bu, Alma College

Perforations in the Iron Curtain: The Ford Foundation's Exchange Program with Poland
Gregory Domber, California State Polytechnic University, San Luis Obispo

The USIA's Music Program and the State-Private Network
Danielle Fosler-Lussier, Ohio State University

Appealing to American Publics during the Vietnam War
Jessica Frazier, University of Rhode Island

Comment: Giles Scott-Smith, Leiden University

Panel 4: U.S. Responses to Regional Power Politics in the Eastern Mediterranean and the Middle East (Studio C)

Chair: David Paull Nickles, Office of the Historian, Department of State

A Policy of Detachment: The U.S. and Israel's Alignment with Turkey, 1996-1997
Ekavi Athanassopoulou, University of Athens, Greece

The American Response to the Growth of Nasserism in Libya, 1951-1959
Hasan Karayam, Middle Tennessee State University
SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

A New Look at Regime Change in the Persian Gulf Crisis
Joseph Stieb, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Comment: James R. Stocker, Trinity Washington University

Panel 5: Traditions of Modernization: Development Theory in Global Perspective (Studio B)

Chair: Nick Cullather, Indiana University, Bloomington

Nodari Simoniia and Soviet Ideas about the Effect of “Traditions” on Economic Growth
Chris Miller, Yale University

Decolonization and the Development of Development Economics in the USSR
Alessandro Iandolo, University of Oxford

China between Mao and Reform: The Crisis of the Late 1970s
Isabella Weber, University of Cambridge

The Role of the United States in Latin American Industrialization: Contemporary Experiences in Historical Perspective
Isabel Estevez, University of Cambridge

Comment: Nick Cullather

Panel 6: American Philanthropic Politics Abroad (Salon 3)

Chair: Anelise Hanson Shrou, California State University, Fullerton

Local Crime, Transatlantic Reform: The Foreign Relations of the Nineteenth-Century Prison Reform Movement
Laura Michel, Rutgers University

“Nor Do They Harbor Vermin”: Exploring the Impact of International Philanthropic Collaboration through Material Culture
Amanda Moniz, National Museum of American History

The Philanthropy Machine and U.S.-Ottoman Relations in the Nineteenth Century
Christopher L. Miller, University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Comment: Anelise Hanson Shrou

Panel 7: Merchants, Artisans, and Dreamers: The Long View in Asia (Salon 5)

Chair: Nick Sarantakes, Naval War College

Middle Men in the Middle Kingdom: American and Chinese Merchants in the First Opium War
Thomas Cox, Sam Houston State University

Subjects of Photography/Subjects of American Diplomacy: Refugee Artisans in Postcolonial Vietnam

Jennifer Way, University of North Texas

An Obligation to Begin Anew: The Politics of Social Security Reform in the U.S. Occupation of Japan, 1945-1952

Ben Zdencanvoic, Yale University

Robert A. and Barbara Divine Graduate Student Travel Grant Award

Comment: Nick Sarantakes

Panel 8: New Thinking on Old Questions (Studio D)

Chair: David Milne, University of East Anglia

In the Eyes of the World: The Foreign Policy of Women's Suffrage

Elizabeth Cobbs, Texas A&M University

The Fall of Détente: The Multiple Endings to U.S.-Soviet Détente, 1976-1980

Bartholomew Sparrow, University of Texas, Austin

In League: The American Response to the Versailles Treaty

Trygve Throntveit, University of Minnesota

Averting the Third World War: Nehru, Colombo, and the Vision of Non-Aligned Indochina, 1954-1956

Marek Rutkowski, National University of Singapore

Comment: David Milne

Panel 9: Rethinking Cold War Liberalism: Human Rights, Nuclear Disarmament, and Liberals in the Late Cold War (Studio E)

Chair: Jeremi Suri, University of Texas, Austin

Arms Control is Not Disarmament: The Institute for Policy Studies, Nuclear Disarmament, and Citizen Diplomacy

Brian Mueller, Independent Scholar

Liberal Democrats and Chile, 1970-1976

Andrew Kirkendall, Texas A&M University

Labor Rights and Human Rights in the 1980s

Carl Bon Tempo, University of Albany, State University of New York

Comment: Bradley Simpson, University of Connecticut

Panel 10: The Prize? Energy, Security, and Expertise (Salon 6)

Chair: Roham Alvandi, London School of Economics and Political Science

“No Blood for Oil”: Energy Resources, Popular Culture, and Popular Protest
Osamah Khalil, Syracuse University

Experts’ Apocalypse: Peak Oil and Phantasm on the Road to the Middle East
Roger Stern, University of Pennsylvania

A Useful Enemy? Libya, the United States, and the Making of Insecurity
Jacob Mundy, Colgate University

Comment: Roham Alvandi

Panel 11: The Public, Congress, and U.S. Foreign Relations: Taking the Long View (Studio F)

Chair: Justin Hart, Texas Tech University

Private Diplomacy, Public Interest: George Logan’s Mission, Congress, and the Logan Act
Wendy Wong Schimer, Temple University

Diplomacy of the Public: Congress and Consuls Champion Haitian Recognition
Ronald Angelo Johnson, Texas State University

“Endless Foreign Exertions”: Congress Constrains National Commitments in the Vietnam Era
Katherine Scott, U.S. Senate Historical Office

Comment: Thomas Schwartz, Vanderbilt University

COFFEE BREAK: 1:30 – 2:00 PM

Coffee, tea, soft drinks, and bottled water will be served in the registration and exhibit area.

SESSION II: 2:00 – 3:45 PM (PANELS 12 – 23)

Panel 12: Roundtable: Wilson and World War I: New Perspectives (Salon 1)

Chair: Lloyd Ambrosius, University of Nebraska, Lincoln

Woodrow Wilson and Peace without Victory: Interpreting the Reversal of 1917
John A. Thompson, University of Cambridge

Beyond Belief: Religion in Woodrow Wilson's Internationalism
Cara Burnidge, University of Northern Iowa

Room for Choice: Explaining Woodrow Wilson's Submarine Warfare Policy
Ross Kennedy, Illinois State University

Woodrow Wilson and the Formation of the Post-Ottoman Middle East
Charles Laderman, King's College London

Panel 13: Counter-Terrorism and the American Experience (Studio A)

Chair: Beverly Gage, Yale University

Intelligence Wars: The Creation of an Anglo-American Alliance against the Communist International, 1919-1927
Mary Barton, Dartmouth College

The Reagan Administration and the Problems of State-Sponsored Fanaticism
Alexandra Evans, University of Virginia

Legacies of Terror: America and Pakistan's Militant Proxy Strategies since the 1970s
Thomas Cavanna, Southern Methodist University

Comment: Paul Chamberlain, Columbia University

Panel 14: Roundtable: Innovative Teaching Resources (Salon 2)

Chair: Kimber Quinney, California State University, San Marcos

New Approaches to International History (a Bloomsbury Series)
Amy Sayward, Middle Tennessee State University

The Pedagogical Value of Case Studies
Kelly McFarland, Georgetown University

Voices and Visions of the American Century: American Foreign Relations through Sound and Image
Daniel Hummel, Harvard University, Kennedy School of Government

Oral Histories of Diplomats and Dignitaries
Mark Tauber, Association for Diplomatic Studies and Training

Panel 15: Covert Action, Surveillance, and Propaganda: The Global Reach of Secret U.S. Power in the Early Cold War (Salon 3)

Chair: Richard Immerman, Temple University

CIA Psychological Warfare and the Subversion of Communist Albania, 1951-1959
Steve Long, Canterbury Christ Church University

The Americanization of Irish Anti-Communism: The CIA, Irish Neutrality, and the European Youth Campaign

Brian McKenzie, Maynooth University

FBI Surveillance of the Puerto Rican Nationalist Party across Latin America

Margaret Power, Illinois Institute of Technology

Influencing the “Moulders of Public Opinion”: American Cold War Propaganda in India and Pakistan, 1952-1963

Uzma Quraishi, Sam Houston State University

Comment: Hugh Wilford, California State University, Long Beach

Panel 16: Imperial Transitions: Britain, the Netherlands, and the United States, 1937-1949 (Studio F)

Chair: Ann Heiss, Kent State University

Managing the Pain: The Politics of Opium in a World Preparing for War

Anne Foster, Indiana State University

Perceptions of Prestige: Anglo-American Soldiers in Wartime India

Andrew Muldoon, Metropolitan State University, Denver

Expropriating American Power: The Dutch East Indies Crisis and the Turn to Cold War Clientelism

David J. Snyder, University of South Carolina

Comment: Marc Frey, University of Bundeswehr

Panel 17: Global Africa and Cold War Diplomacy (Salon 5)

Chair: Elizabeth Schmidt, Loyola University Maryland

The Politics of Pity: Johnson’s Policy towards Africa, 1963-1969

Frank Gertis, University of Amsterdam

The Worth of Peanuts: Soviet-Malian Economic Cooperation and the Making of a Non-Monetary Financial Crisis

Alessandro Iandolo, University College London

Hedging One’s Bets: America and the Congo Alliance, 1963-1965

Lazlo Passemiers, University of the Free State

SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Discussant: Elizabeth Schmidt

Panel 18: Christian Mission, U.S. Power, and Domestic and Foreign Publics from the Early Republic to the Cold War (Studio C)

Chair: Emily Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University

Protestant Mission, American Empire, and the Uses of History in Hawaii and the Philippines, 1880-1920

Tom Smith, University of Cambridge

Foreign Missionaries and the "Spirit of Benevolence" in the Early Republic

Ashley Moreshead, University of Central Florida

Contending Christianities: U.S. Catholic and Protestant Missions in Central America and Political Advocacy at Home during Henry Luce's American Century, 1941-1960

Charles T. Strauss, Mount St. Mary's University

Comment: Emily Conroy-Krutz

Panel 19: Diplomacy, Development, and Human Rights in Cold War Latin America (Studio D)

Chair: Thomas Field, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University

Reexamining Reagan: Democratization and Transitional Justice in Uruguay

Debbie Sharnak, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Testing the Limits of Hegemony: Bolivian Revolutionary Diplomacy, 1952-1954

Oliver Murphey, College of Staten Island

Drugs and Development: U.S. Drug Control Policy in Bolivia, 1983-1989

Brittany Edmondson, New York University

Comment: Thomas Field

Panel 20: All Politics is International: The World and American Presidential Elections (Salon 6)

Chair: Mitch Lerner, Ohio State University

The Soviet Union and the U.S. Presidential Election of 1972

Mark Kramer, Harvard University

The U.S. Presidential Election of 1960 and the Soviet Response

Andrey Edemskiy, Russian Academy of Sciences

Populism and Foreign Policy in the 1976 Election
Michael Brenes, Yale University

Comment: Ambassador Jack Matlock, Duke University

Panel 21: Race, Surveillance, and Transnational Histories of the U.S. Security State (Studio E)

Chair: Colleen Woods, University of Maryland

Securing the Traveling Public: The U.S. Passport Office and the Emergent Cold War Mobility Regime

Ryan Archibald, University of Washington, Seattle

Securing the Hemisphere: Indians, Imperial Anxieties, and the Inter-American Indian Institute
Raquel Escobar, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Security by Other Means: The Hidden Continuation of Overseas Police Assistance after 1974
Stuart Schrader, Harvard University

Discussant: Colleen Woods

Panel 22: Discourse and Interaction: Decolonization and Its Relationship to American State and Non-State Actors (Salon 7)

Chair: Maurice Jr. Labelle, University of Saskatchewan

Paths to Revolution: Angolan Actors in American-Sponsored Congregational Missions
Kate Burlingham, California State University, Fullerton

Adoption vs Adaption: Indigenous Internationalism and the Discourse of Decolonization
Jonathan Crossen, University of Tromsø, The Arctic University of Norway

A Multipolar World: Decolonization and the Cold War in Zanzibar
Ethan Sanders, Regis University

Comment: Christopher Dietrich, Fordham University

Panel 23: SHAFR 50th Anniversary Roundtable (Studio B)

Chair: Tim Borstelmann, University of Nebraska, Lincoln

Kristin Hoganson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Carol Anderson, Emory University

Daniel Immerwahr, Northwestern University

Lloyd Gardner, Rutgers University

REFRESHMENT BREAK: 3:45 – 4:15 PM

Coffee, tea, soft drinks, bottled water, and light snacks will be served in the registration and exhibit area.

PLENARY SESSION: 4:15 – 6:00 PM (Salon 4)

Can Law Restrain War? Lessons from History

Moderator: Mary L. Dudziak, Asa Griggs Candler Professor of Law, Emory University

Rosa Brooks, Professor of Law, Georgetown University

Jack Goldsmith, Henry L. Shattuck Professor, Harvard Law School

Helen M. Kinsella, Associate Professor of Political Science, University of Wisconsin, Madison

John Fabian Witt, Allen H. Duffy Class of 1960 Professor of Law, Yale Law School

WELCOME RECEPTION and SHAFR 50TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION:
6:00 – 7:30 PM (Second Floor Reception Area)

Sponsored by Oxford University Press, publishers of Diplomatic History

All registrants are invited to join us for light hors d'oeuvres and drinks. Beer, wine, and soft drinks will be available. Each registrant will receive two drink tickets; bar will be on a cash basis thereafter.

FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 2017

BREAKFAST: 8:00-8:30 AM

Co-sponsored by the Committee on Women in SHAFR and the Coordinating Council for Women in History (CCWH)

A continental breakfast and coffee will be served in the registration and exhibit area.

The Committee on Women in SHAFR and the Coordinating Council for Women in History (CCWH) invite you to learn more about their activities and meet and mingle with other scholars with shared interests.

Diplomatic History Editorial Board Meeting: 8:00 – 9:30 AM, Boardroom

Registration: 8:00 AM – 4:30 PM, Second Floor Reception Area

Book Exhibit: 8:00 AM – 4:30 PM, Second Floor Reception Area

SESSION III: 8:30 – 10:15 AM (PANELS 24 – 35)

Panel 24: All Volunteer Force between the Cold War and the War on Terror (Salon 1)

Chair: Robert Brigham, Vassar College

Warriors Who Don't Fight: The American Soldier and the Identity Politics of Peacekeeping Operations

David Fitzgerald, University College Cork

From "Your Services Are Not Required" to "Most Commanders Were Very Receptive": How Peacekeeping Missions Changed the Army's Attitudes about Mental Health

David Kieran, Washington and Jefferson College

A Few Good (Single) Men: The 1993 Marine Corps Marriage Ban

John Worsencroft, Temple University

Comment: Robert Brigham

Panel 25: Challenges of Political Biography (Studio A)

Chair: David Mayers, Boston University

Colonel House: Woodrow Wilson's Silent Partner

Charles Neu, Brown University

Shadow Warrior Was a Shadow Indeed: The CIA's William Colby as a Biographical Subject

Randall B. Woods, University of Arkansas

Chasing the Gipper: Reflections on Writing a Reagan Biography

H. W. Brands, University of Texas, Austin

Comment: David Mayers

Panel 26: Cold War Executive Decision Making and Intelligence (Salon 3)

Chair: Tim Sayle, University of Toronto

Secrecy and Backchannels: President Richard Nixon's Office Structure

Ashley Neale, University of Kansas

"Castro Cannot Take Over": Lyndon Johnson, the Policymaking Process, and the Dominican Intervention

Shannon E. Mohan, Office of the Secretary of Defense Historical Office

Can You Keep a Secret? The Power of American Military Intelligence and a Top Secret Interrogation

Simona Tobia, Independent Scholar

SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Comment: Tim Sayle

Panel 27: Understanding U.S. Relations with Late Imperial and Revolutionary Iran: New Interpretations and Frameworks (Studio C)

Chair: David Painter, Georgetown University

Containing the Shah? The United States and Iran's Regional Ambitions, 1969-1979

W. Taylor Fain, University of North Carolina, Wilmington

The United States, the Shah of Iran, and the Global Oil Industry, 1966-1974

Christopher R. W. Dietrich, Fordham University

Human Rights and the Revolutionary Divide: The United States, Imperial Iran, and the Islamic Republic

Matthew Shannon, Emory and Henry College

Comments: David Painter and Roham Alvandi, London School of Economics and Political Science

Panel 28: Brazil and the Bomb: New Evidence and Interpretation (Studio D)

Chair: James Hershberg, George Washington University

Why Did Brazil Never Build the Bomb?

Matias Spektor, Getulio Vargas Foundation

Brazil, Nuclear Weapons, and the Consequences of the Cuban Missile Crisis

Carlo Patti, Federal University of Goias

"Keep the Nuclear Beast in a Cage": Brazil, the United States, and Peaceful Nuclear Explosions under the Treaty of Tlatelolco and the NPT, 1964-1968

Ryan Musto, George Washington University

Comment: William Burr, National Security Archive

Panel 29: Visions of World Government and the American Public: Hemispheric, Atlantic, and Global Perspectives in the 1940s (Salon 2)

Chair: Stella Krepp, University of Bern

“King-links” of a “Global Chain”? Hemispheric Regionalism, Nationalism, and World Government

Marco Mariano, Università del Piemonte Orientale

“A Different and Better Future”: Eleanor Roosevelt and the Global Atlantic, 1939-1945

Dario Fazzi, Roosevelt Institute for American Studies

Debating Dumbarton Oaks: Alternative Postwar Visions for International Organization

Andrew Johnstone, University of Leicester

Commentator: Elizabeth Borgwardt, Washington University in St. Louis

Panel 30: Roundtable: Twenty Years of “Unceasing Pressure”: Frank Costigliola and the Study of U.S. Foreign Relations (Studio B)

Chair: Melvyn Leffler, University of Virginia

Barbara Keys, University of Melbourne

Andrew Rotter, Colgate University

Petra Goedde, Temple University

Comment: Frank Costigliola, University of Connecticut

Panel 31: Revisiting Carter’s Foreign Policy: An Overlooked Success (Studio E)

Chair: James F. Goode, Grand Valley State University

Securing NATO’s Southern Flank: Carter and the Greek-Turkish Disputes

Athanasios Antonopoulos, University of Edinburgh

SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Containment Resurgent: The Carter Administration’s Strategic Response to the Soviet Invasion of Afghanistan

Conor Tobin, University College Dublin

The Carter Administration and the Challenges of Economic Globalization

Michael Benjamin de Groot, University of Virginia

“Uncertainty and Scarcity”: Famine Relief under the Carter Administration

Christian Tyler Ruth, University of Albany, State University of New York

Comment: James F. Goode

Panel 32: Migrant Activism and U.S. Foreign Relations in the Late Twentieth Century (Salon 5)

Chair: Carl J. Bon Tempo, University of Albany, State University of New York

Family Reunification and Migration Policy: Vietnamese-American Advocacy in the Clinton Years

Amanda Demmer, University of New Hampshire

The American Lebanese League and the Political Awakening of the Lebanese-American Community during the Reagan Era

Laila Ballout, Northwestern University

The Cold War to be Continued? The Miami Lobbies and U.S. Policy toward Cuba during the George Bush Era

Hideaki Kami, Kanagawa University

Comment: Meredith Oyen, University of Maryland

Panel 33: To Change the United States: Chinese Persuasion, Insider Politics, and Sex

Chair: Charles Hayford, Independent Scholar

The Beauty Trap: Sexual Attraction as Diplomatic Power in Wartime Sino-American Relations
Charles Hayford, Independent Scholar

Young Americo-China: Chinese Assimilation in the U.S. and Transformations in China, 1848-1911

Yucheng Qin, University of Hawaii, Hilo

The Open Backdoor: The Persuasive Power of Chinese Officials in Washington and U.S. Public Opinion during World War II

Sally Burt, University of New South Wales, Canberra
SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Commentator: Robert Shaffer, Shippensburg University

Panel 34: The Poison Gas Taboo: A Global Perspective (Salon 7)

Chair: Marion Girard Dorsey, University of New Hampshire

The Origins of the Poison Gas Taboo in U.S. Foreign Policy

Thomas Faith, Office of the Historian, U.S. Department of State

Abhorrence and Moral High Ground: The Rhetoric of U.S. and Japanese Chemical Warfare Policy in the Pacific War

Walter Grunden, Bowling Green State University

The Tenuous Taboo: Egypt's Chemical War in Yemen, 1963-1967

Asher Orkaby, Harvard University

Comment: Marion Girard Dorsey

Panel 35: New Directions in U.S. Foreign Relations and Political-Economic History (Studio F)

Chair: Paul Kramer, Vanderbilt University

The Currency and Limits of the New Capitalism's Historiography

Rachel Bunker, Rutgers University

Cotton, Capitalism, and World Ecology: New Directions in Global Political Economy

Daniel Rood, University of Georgia

Supply-Side Drug Control and Environmental Politics in the Reagan-Era War on Drugs

April Merleaux, Florida International University

The New World Group and New Directions in U.S. Foreign Relations

Peter James Hudson, University of California, Los Angeles

COFFEE BREAK: 10:15 – 10:45 AM

Coffee, tea, soft drinks, and bottled water will be served in the registration and exhibit area.

SESSION IV: 10:45 AM – 12:30 PM (PANELS 36 – 47)

Panel 36: Orientalism and Its Discontents: The U.S. Public and the Transpacific Cultural Cold War (Salon 1)

Chair: Christina Klein, Boston College

"How Could I Not Love You?": American Women and U.S.-Chinese Détente

Kazushi Minami, University of Texas, Austin

Robert A. and Barbara Divine Graduate Student Travel Grant Award

When Chinese Dinner Beats Chinese Treasure: Dilemmas of Chinese Cultural Diplomacy at the 1964 New York World's Fair

Yanqiu Zheng, Northwestern University

Workers' Cold War: George Meany, Walter Reuther, and U.S. Policies in Asia

Hui He, South China Normal University

Comment: Kevin Y. Kim, University of Washington, Bothell

Panel 37: Black Internationalism and Black Freedom Struggles (Studio A)

Chair: Carol Anderson, Emory University

Racial Segregation Any Place in a World Is a Crime: International Youth Diplomacy, Rights Discourses, and the Black Freedom Struggle Abroad

Susan Eckleman Berghel, University of Tennessee, Chattanooga

U.S. International Education and African Student Activists, 1960-1969

Manna Duah, Temple University

Robert A. and Barbara Divine Graduate Student Travel Grant Award

Bishop Ralph Dodge: Africa's Unwanted Missionary

Luke Shief, University of Missouri

The African-American Contribution to the Free South Africa Movement

Ronald Williams II, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Comment: Carol Anderson

Panel 38: Advancing U.S. Power through NATO (Studio C)

Chair: Lawrence S. Kaplan, Kent State University

Operation Allied Force: A Shift in American Power to NATO

Lauren Stauffer, University of Connecticut

Maintaining Our Empire: Nixon and the Primacy of NATO

Benjamin Jared Pack, University of Arkansas

"A Test that We Cannot Afford to Fail": The Bush Administration, NATO Short-Range Nuclear Forces, and the Struggle for Europe's Future

Stephanie Freeman, University of Virginia

Comment: Kelly M. McFarland, Georgetown University

Panel 39: The Spaces of Interwar Internationalism (Salon 2)

Moderator: Daniel Margolies, Virginia Wesleyan University

Internationalism in the Swiss Village of Leysin

Ilaria Scaglia, Columbus State University

Talking the International: Internationalism's Discursive Spaces in the 1920s and 1930s

Katharina Rietzler, University of Sussex

SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Save the World from Singapore: The Rockefeller Foundation and International Health Communications

Heidi Tworek, University of British Columbia

Comment: Daniel Margolies

Panel 40: Roundtable: David Hollinger's Protestants Abroad (Studio B)

Daniel Immerwahr, Northwestern University

Melani McAlister, George Washington University

Melanie Hsu, University of Texas, Austin

Andrew Preston, Clare College, Cambridge University

David Engerman, Brandeis University

David Hollinger, University of California, Berkeley

Panel 41: Esquipulas II at Thirty: Historical Perspectives on Central American Peace in the 1980s (Studio D)

Chair: Vanessa Walker, Amherst College

"Peace is the Crown of Democracy": Oscar Arias's Central American Diplomacy
Evan McCormick, Southern Methodist University

"Fighting while Negotiating": The Contras' Military Response to Esquipulas II
Hilary Francis, University of London
SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

When the Mouse Roared: How Oscar Arias Defeated the Reagan Administration
Kyle Longley, Arizona State University

Comment: Jason Colby, University of Victoria

Panel 42: What Role for the Intelligence Community in U.S. Foreign Relations? (Studio E)

Chair: Randall Woods, University of Arkansas

John Paton Davies and Operation Tawny Pipit: The Political Is Personal
Sarah Jane Corke, Dalhousie University

Early Cold War Paper Mills and the Case of the MHBK (Association of Hungarian Veterans)
Mark Stout, Johns Hopkins University, and Katalin Kádár Lynn, Helena History Press

“An American Gestapo”: U.S. Isolationism, Internationalism, and the Creation of the CIA
Hugh Wilford, California State University

Comment: Michael Warner, U.S. Department of Defense

Panel 43: The Gift of Giving? Aid and Emotion in U.S. Foreign Relations (Salon 3)

Chairs: Frank Costigliola, University of Connecticut and Andrew Rotter, Colgate University

“Lie without Blushing”: Gratitude and Paternalism in U.S.-Israeli Relations, 1958-1967
Shaul Mitelplunkt, University of York
SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

“The Sympathies of the Consul Are Strongly Aroused”: Contemplating U.S. Consuls’ Out-of-Pocket Aid to Americans in Distress Abroad in 1902
Nicole Phelps, University of Vermont

The Frustrations of Giving: “Ingratitude,” Public Outrage, and German-American Relations in the Era of the Great War, 1914-1924
Elisabeth Piller, Norwegian University of Science and Technology

Emotions and American Aid to Bolshevik Russia
David Greenstein, University of Illinois, Chicago

Comment: Barbara Keys, University of Melbourne

Panel 44: Roundtable: So It is Your Turn as Chair of the History Department: Tips for a Thankless Job (Studio F)

William Ashbaugh, State University of New York, Oneonta

Catherine Forslund, Rockford University

John McNay, University of Cincinnati, Blue Ash

Katherine Sibley, St. Joseph’s University

Panel 45: Capitol, Labor, and U.S. Empire in Cold War Asia (Salon 5)

Chair: Naoko Shibusawa, Brown University

Contracts, Containers, and Capitalism: The Vietnam War and the Globalization of South Korean Capital, 1965-1972

Patrick Chung, Brown University

Lost in Transnation: South Korean Transnational Employment in Vietnam during the Woolam Boom

Eunseo Jo, Stanford University

Occupational Hazards: Race, Labor, and the U.S. Military in Okinawa

Colleen Woods, University of Maryland

Chair: Paul Kramer, Vanderbilt University

Panel 46: Ideological Transnationalism in U.S.-Middle East Relations (Salon 6)

Chair: Osamah F. Khalil, Syracuse University

The Creation of the “Essential Terrorist” and U.S.-Middle East Relations, 1974-1986

Alex Hobson, Northwestern University

The Threat of Arab Oil Power to “American Empire” in the 1970s

Anna Viden, University of Pennsylvania

Dreams Come to Ground: Arabs, Arab Americans, and the Israeli-Palestine Dispute, 1967-1988

Salim Yaqub, University of California, Santa Barbara

Chair: Osamah F. Khalil

Panel 47: Roundtable: The Smithsonian and the World (Salon 7)

Chair: Jenifer Van Vleck, National Air and Space Museum

Martin Collins, National Air and Space Museum

Joshua Bell, National Museum of Natural History

Karen Milbourne, Museum of African Art

KEYNOTE LUNCHEON: 12:30 – 2:30 PM (Salon 4)

Pre-registration and tickets required.

The Chinese Question: The Evolution of a Global Politics of Race

Mae Ngai, Lung Family Professor of Asian American Studies and Professor of History at Columbia University

SESSION V: 2:30 – 4:15 PM (PANELS 48 – 59)

Panel 48: A Transformative Decade? Learning Processes, Attitude Changes, and Transfers of Knowledge in Diplomatic Contacts in the 1970s (Salon 1)

Chair: William Glenn Gray, Purdue University

Nuclear Diplomacy: The SALT Negotiations as Communicative Process between the Superpowers of the Cold War

Arvid Schors, University of Freiburg

Foreign Policy in the Information Age: From Military Power Politics to the Control of Information

Jürgen Dinkel, German Historical Institute

Disenchanted Transatlanticists: U.S. Foundations in the 1970s Western Europe

Helke Rausch, University of Freiburg

SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Comment: William Glenn Gray

Panel 49: Transatlanticism in the Reagan Era (Salon 2)

Chair: Thomas Schwartz, Vanderbilt University

Pushing Buttons: Transatlantic Perspectives of Reagan's Foreign Policy

Susan Colbourn, University of Toronto

Three Very Different Atlanticists? Helmut Schmidt, Margaret Thatcher, and the "Reagan Factor" in Transforming the Transatlantic Relationship during the Early 1980s

Mathias Haeussler, University of Cambridge

"When Irish Eyes are Smiling": Canada and the Reagan Administration

Asa McKercher, McMaster University

Panel 50: International Organizations, the U.S., and the "Rest": New Perspectives on the Writing of International History (Studio C)

Chair: Vanni Pettiná, El Colegio de México

The Organization of American States and the Plight of Regional Organizations

Stella Krepp, University of Bern

Exploring the Multi-Nationalities of the United Nations

Steven B. Jensen, The Danish Institute of Human Rights

The IMF and the World Bank: The Bretton Woods-United States-Latin American Triangle

Claudia Kedar, Hebrew University of Jerusalem

The World Bank, U.S. Hegemony, and the Africa Agenda
Howard Stein, University of Michigan

Comment: Vanni Pettiná

Panel 51: U.S. and U.K. Aid Policies during the Cold War (Salon 3)

Chair: Yafeng Xia, Long Island University

British and American Aid to South and Southeast Asian Borderlands, 1950-1970
Reed Chervin, University of Hong Kong
Robert A. and Barbara Divine Graduate Student Travel Grant Award

Engineering's Role in Early Cold War Development Policy
Keith Aksel, Rowan University

Development and Drugs: Colombia's Graduation from U.S. Foreign Aid in 1975
Oliver Horn, Georgetown University

Comment: Priscilla Roberts, University of Hong Kong

Panel 52: Faith and Foreign Affairs: Religion, Non-State Actors, and U.S. Foreign Relations in the Early Twentieth Century (Salon 5)

Chair: Cara Burnidge, University of Northern Iowa

"I am Persia's": Howard Baskerville, American Presbyterian Missionaries, and U.S.-Iranian Relations during the First Iranian Revolution
Kelly Shannon, Florida Atlantic University

The Principles of Relief: American Missionaries and the Remaking of Indian Lives after the Spanish Influenza Pandemic
Jonathan Chilcote, Florida College

Arab-American Efforts to Influence U.S. Policy on Palestine, 1944-1948
Denise Laszewski Jenison, Kent State University

Comment: Cara Burnidge

Panel 53: Killer Rules: Negotiating the Line between War and Terror in the 1960s and 1970s (Salon 6)

Chair: Sarah Snyder, American University

Making Enemies: Determining Combatant Status during the Vietnam War

Brian Cuddy, Macquarie University, Australia

Nothing but “Ordinary Criminals”: U.S. and Western European Efforts to Delegitimize Terroristic Violence in the 1970s

Silke Zoller, Temple University

Pressured Compromise: Rethinking the Negotiation of the Laws of War

Giovanni Mantilla, Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas (CIDE), Mexico

SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Comment: Kimberly Lowe, Lesley University

Panel 54: American Engineering Internationalism from the Early Republic to the Cold War (Studio E)

Chair: Jayita Sarkar, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Boston University

The Global Reach of American Engineers before the Civil War

Konstantin Dierks, Indiana University

Engineers’ Dreams: Space Exploration and the Promise of World Peace

Gretchen Heefner, Northeastern University

Engineering the “Scramble” for Africa: American Engineers and Histories of the United States in the World

Stephen Tuffnell, University of Oxford

Comment: Jayita Sarkar

Panel 55: Scholarly Approaches to Doing Digital Diplomatic History (Salon 7)

Chair: Marc Selverstone, University of Virginia

Abby Mullen, Northeastern University

Zoe LeBlanc, Vanderbilt University

Robert A. and Barbara Divine Graduate Student Travel Grant Award

Micki Kaufman, City University of New York Graduate Center

Comment: Marc Selverstone

Panel 56: Firewall Politics: Revisiting the Boundaries of the Third World (Studio A)

Chair: Mark Atwood Lawrence, University of Texas, Austin

Networks of Integration: The Colombo Powers and South-South Diplomacy in the Third World
Cindy Ewing, Yale University

An Economic Bomb: Third World Resistance to Superpower Détente
Jeffrey James Byrne, University of British Columbia

Circumscribed Sovereignty: American Liberalism and the Third World
Ryan M. Irwin, University of Albany, State University of New York

Comment: Gregg A. Brazinsky, George Washington University

Panel 57: Roundtable: President Trump’s Foreign Policy: The First Six Months in Historical Perspective (Studio B)

Chair: Aaron O’Connell, National Security Council

Edward Fishman, Atlantic Council

Troy Thomas, National Security Council

Charles Edel, Naval War College

Panel 58: Science and Technology, Power and Projection in U.S. Foreign Relations (Studio F)

Chair: Kate Epstein, Rutgers University, Camden

The Promethean Ally: Britain, the United States, and Technological Diplomacy in the Second World War

Michael Falcone, Northwestern University

“The National Science Foundation and US Foreign Policy during the 1950s-60s”

Emily Gibson, National Science Foundation

Projecting American Science Abroad: U.S. Science-Themed Propaganda Films, 1950s-1970s

Teasel Muir-Harmony, Smithsonian Institution

Commentator: Jenifer Van Vleck, Smithsonian Air and Space Museum

Panel 59: War: What Is It Good for? A Conversation in Honor of Marilyn B. Young (Studio D)

Chairs: Mark Bradley, University of Chicago, and Robert Brigham, Vassar College

Lloyd Gardner, Rutgers University

Mary L. Dudziak, Emory University

Michael Sherry, Northwestern University

Scott Laderman, University of Minnesota, Duluth

Michael Allen, Northwestern University

RECEPTION TO CELEBRATE THE NEW EDITION OF THE SHAFR GUIDE: AN ANNOTATED BIBLIOGRAPHY OF U.S. FOREIGN RELATIONS SINCE 1600

5:00 – 6:00 PM (Studio D)

Sponsored by Brill Publishers

Wine and hors d'oeuvres will be served

SOCIAL EVENT: 6:30 – 9:30 PM

Pre-registration and tickets for dinner and bus transportation required.

This year's Friday night social event will be a seafood feast on the East Pier at National Harbor, with vegan and vegetarian options available. Buses will depart the hotel beginning at 6:00 PM and return to the Renaissance Arlington Capital View beginning at 9:30 PM. Please see the conference website for more details.

SATURDAY JUNE 24, 2017

Registration: 8:30 AM – 12:00 PM, Second Floor Reception Area

Book Exhibit: 8:30 AM – 3:30 PM, Second Floor Reception Area

Job Workshop: 8:00 – 9:15 AM (Salon 4)

Due to space and personnel limitations, advance registration is required. Thank you for your understanding.

BREAKFAST: 9:00 – 9:30 AM

All registrants are invited to join us for a continental breakfast and coffee in the registration and exhibit area.

SESSION VI: 9:30 – 11:15 AM (Panels 60-71)

Panel 60: Roundtable: Crafting Citizenship in Times of Exception (Studio B)

Chair: Adriane Lentz-Smith, Duke University

White Rage and States of Exception

Carol Anderson, Emory University

Black Suffering and Solidarity in Times of Exception

Joshua Guild, Princeton University

Rightslessness and Exceptions

A. Naomi Paik, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Crafting White Americans in the Shadow of the “Dark Continent”

Jeannette Eileen Jones, University of Nebraska, Lincoln

Latinidades in Times of Exception

Ginetta Candelario, Smith College

Panel 61: Roundtable: Constructing the Second World War: Remaking Race and Infrastructure in a Global Conflict (Studio 2)

Chair: Brooke Blower, Boston University

Andrew Friedman, Haverford College

Julia Irwin, University of South Florida

Daniel Immerwahr, Northwestern University

Tom Guglielmo, George Washington University

Panel 62: From the Brezhnev Doctrine to the Unipolar Moment (Studio A)

Chair: Fred Logevall, Harvard University

Ambassador Jack Matlock, Duke University

Panel 63: The Urban Challenge and Development: International Organizations, the United States, and Multilevel Governance (Studio C)

Chair: Nick Cullather, Indiana University

The Urban Challenge as a Problem in International Development

Marc Frey, Bundeswehr University, Munich

Ernest Weissmann, the United Nations, and the Beginnings of Urban Development Policies

Tobias Wolffhardt, Bundeswehr University, Munich

Urban Environmental Policy in McNamara’s World Bank, between Ideal and Reality: The Case of São Paulo

Sabrina Kirschner, Bundeswehr University, Munich

SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Commentator: Nick Cullather

Panel 64: Oceanic Governance Regimes and U.S. Law in Global Perspective (Studio D)

Chair: Megan Black, Harvard University

The “Empire of Law” Goes to Sea: Fur Seals and the Bering Sea Conflict, 1880-1893

Rebecca McLennan, University of California, Berkeley

U.S. Jurisdictional Assertions in Submerged Lands and the New Spatialized Regimes of the Sea, 1945-1958

Daniel Margolies, Virginia Wesleyan College

On Arms and Letters: Legal, Technical, and Military Aspects of U.S. Maritime Hegemony in the Cold War Mediterranean

Lino Camprubi, Max Planck Institute for the History of Science

Comment: Megan Black

Panel 65: Exiles, Anti-Imperialists, and Technology: Solidarity Networks in the History of Inter-American Relations (Salon 1)

Chair: Margaret Power, Illinois Institute of Technology

Postwar Anti-Imperialist Networks and the New Inter-American System, 1920-1933

Micah Wright, Texas A&M University

Cuba’s Revolutionary War

Jonathan Brown, University of Texas, Austin

The Strands of the Caribbean’s “Cold War”: Caribbean Basin Exiles and Transnational Networks, 1945-1952

Aaron Coy Moulton, University of Arkansas

Communications Technology and Caribbean Solidarity Networks

Tomás Pérez Varela, University of Puerto Rico

Comment: Margaret Power

Panel 66: Eyes on India: Expanding Perspectives on U.S.-India Relations (Studio E)

Chair: Uzma Quraishi, Sam Houston State University

The Foreign Policy of the Fetus

Jeanna L. Kinnebrew, Boston University

“Nonsensical, Ludicrous and Most Ridiculous” : The CIA and the Performativity of Intelligence in U.S.-Indian Public Diplomacy

Paul M. McGarr, University of Nottingham

Frontiers, New and Final: U.S. Cooperation with India’s Space Program

Marc Reyes, University of Connecticut

SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Comment: David Engerman, Brandeis University

Panel 67: Nixon and Vietnam Revisited: Global and Domestic Political Perspectives on the United States’ Strategic Withdrawal, 1967-1975 (Salon 6)

Chair: Lien-Hang T. Nguyen, Columbia University

Vietnam War Triumvirate: Nixon, Kissinger, Melvin Laird, and the Clash of Republican Constituents, 1969-1970

Sean Fear, Dartmouth University

“No Good Choices” : Assessing President Nixon’s Decision to Remove U.S. Forces from Vietnam, 1967-1970

David Prentice, Oklahoma State University

“Equilibrium Strategy” and “Insurance Policy” : Revisiting Nixon and Kissinger’s Post-Paris Agreement Strategy for Indochina

Johannes Kadura, Friedrich Ebert Foundation

Comment: Timothy Naftali, New York University

Panel 68: Breaking Bonds, Creating Enemies: U.S. Immigration Policy and Its Impact on U.S. Foreign Relations during the Interwar Period (Salon 7)

Chair: Jason Colby, University of Victoria

“A Grave Offense of Significant Consequences” : Three Mexican Perspectives on the U.S. Attempt to Place a Quota on Mexican Immigration during the 1920s

Benjamin Montoya, University of Colorado, Boulder

“Treated Like Lascars” : U.S. Immigration Restriction and White Men’s Countries, 1921-1939

Anne Rees, La Trobe University

Romantic Currents: Migration, Interracial Relationships, and U.S. Imperialism in the Philippines

Allison Wells, University of Iowa

Comment: Robert McGreevey, The College of New Jersey

Panel 69: Roundtable: Making a World of Difference: Teaching the History Survey (Salon 3)

Chair: Lori Clune, California State University, Fresno

Countering Narratives of American Exceptionalism in the U.S. History Survey
Gregory F. Domber, California State Polytechnic University, San Luis Obispo

Engaging Students in Engaging Ways
Brian Etheridge, Georgia Gwinnett College

Open Educational Resources: Transparency, Accountability, and Curricular Coherence
Kimber Quinney, California State University, San Marcos

Panel 70: Sexual Violence and Sexuality in World War II (Salon 5)

Chair: Petra Goedde, Temple University

“Poaching on Purely Male Preserves”: B-Girls, Wives, Workers, and WAVES on the American Home Front
Aaron Hiltner, Boston University

Bad Girls and the Good War: Race, Gender, and Morals Policing in World War II
Anne Gray Fisher, Brown University

Sex with Girls: American GIs and Statutory Rape in the European Theater
Ruth Lawlor, Trinity College, University of Cambridge
SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Panel 71: Beyond Rostow: Diversities of Development after Modernization (Studio F)

Chair: Stephen Macekura, Indiana University

“Social Justice Development” and Its Contradiction
Paul Adler, Harvard University

Corporate Messengers from the Third World: U.S. Businessmen and the Remaking of the Welfare State, 1964-1975
Amy Offner, University of Pennsylvania

After Modernization: Women, Development, and the 1970s Global Anti-Poverty Movement
Joanne Meyerowitz, Yale University

Commentator: Stephen Macekura

PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS AND SHAFR AWARDS LUNCHEON: 11:15 AM – 1:15 PM (Salon 4)

Pre-registration and tickets required.

“You didn’t see him lying...beside the gravel road in France”: Death and the History of American War Powers

SHAFR President Mary L. Dudziak, Asa Griggs Candler Professor of Law, Emory University

SESSION VII: 1:15 – 3:00 PM (Panels 72-83)

Panel 72: Roundtable: Writing The Cambridge History of America and the World (Studio B)

Melani McAlister, George Washington University

Eliga Gould, University of New Hampshire

Kristin Hoganson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Brooke Blower, Boston University

Mark Bradley, University of Chicago

Panel 73: The United States and Right-Wing Dictatorships, a Retrospective: Promoting Democracy in the Cold War (Salon 1)

Chair: William Michael Schmidli, Bucknell University

John F. Kennedy and the Developing World: A Data-Based Retrospective on the Kennedy Administration’s Relations with Autocratic Regimes

Phil Muehlenbeck, George Washington University

The Agony of Liberals: Lyndon Johnson, Brazil, and Indonesia

Mark Atwood Lawrence, University of Texas, Austin

“A Human Rights Policy Means Trouble”: Ecumenical Activism, Civil Religion, and the Forging of Ronald Reagan’s Human Rights Policy

Shannon Nix, University of Virginia

Comment: David F. Schmitz, Whitman College

Panel 74: The United States in the Middle East/The Middle East in the United (Studio C)

Chair: Sarah Hirschhorn, University of Oxford

Arabs and the “Problem of the Color Line”: Revisiting the 1919 Paris Peace Conference

Elizabeth Thompson, American University

Cartoons and Conspiracies: Sense of Humor as Political Category

Perin Gurel, University of Notre Dame

“From the Middle East Point of View”: Empathy and the Lebanese Civil War of 1958 in the United States

Maurice Jr. Labelle, University of Saskatchewan

Comment: Sarah Hirschhorn

Panel 75: Singer, Actor, Songwriter, Spy: The FBI, CIA, and Show Business in Cold War America (Salon 2)

Chair: Katherine Sibley, Saint Joseph’s University

Let Paul Robeson Sing: Overseas Protests over a Passport

Lori Clune, California State University, Fresno

If I Only Had a Brain: Yip Harburg, J. Edgar Hoover, and the Failures of FBI Intelligence Work

Francis MacDonnell, Southern Virginia University

How the FBI and CIA Confronted the Cinematic Color Line in Cold War Hollywood

John Sbardellati, University of Waterloo

Comment: Katherine Sibley

Panel 76: Beyond State Power: Non-State Actors, Aid, and Development Programs and the U.S. in the World in the Twentieth Century (Salon 3)

Chair: Amy Sayward, Middle Tennessee State University

Feeding the “Land of Great Hunger”: Technologies of Food Aid in the American Relief Administration’s Venture to Russia, 1919-1923

E. Kyle Romero, Vanderbilt University

Missionaries, Capital, Relief, and Empire in the Post-Great War Syria and Lebanon

Henry G. Gorman, Vanderbilt University

The Body Utopic: American Anticommunism and the Urban Planning of Bogotá

Amanda C. Waterhouse, Indiana University

A “Little Cuba” in the Jungle: Priests in Ixcán, Guatemala, 1965-1976

Sarah Foss, Indiana University

Robert A. and Barbara Divine Graduate Student Travel Grant Award

Comment: Amy Sayward

Panel 77: Weathering the War: Civilian Experiences in the Atlantic and Pacific Theaters during World War II (Salon 5)

Chair: Lili M. Kim, Hampshire College

Thriving in Scarcity: How Restaurants in New York and London Exploited World War II Food Policies

Heather Ruth Lee, New York University, Shanghai

The Stars and Stripes and the Rising Sun: Imperial Material Culture in the Battle for the Pacific
Alvita Akiboh, Northwestern University

The Promises of Liberation in a Time of War: World War II and “Normalcy” in U.S. and Japanese Propaganda

Genevieve Clutario, Harvard University

Comment: Lili M. Kim

Panel 78: Roundtable: New Evidence from the Clinton Years: Planning FRUS (Studio D)

Chair: Adam Howard, Office of the Historian, U.S. Department of State

Planning the Clinton FRUS Volumes: A Progress Report

Paul Pitman, Office of the Historian, U.S. Department of State

The HAC Challenge: Assessing “Thorough, Accurate, and Reliable”

Richard Immerman, Temple University

Waiting to Write about Clinton’s Foreign Policy: The Problem of Document Availability and Government Classification

Kelly Shannon, Florida Atlantic University

The Clinton Presidency and a Post-Cold War Doctrine: The National Security Council Files of the William J. Clinton Presidential Library

Terri Garner, William J. Clinton Presidential Library

U.S.-NATO-Russia Relations in the Clinton Years

James Goldgeier, American University

Panel 79: The End of the Cold War: New Evidence and New Approaches (Studio E)

Chair: Jeffrey A. Engel, Southern Methodist University

The Beginning of the End: The Geneva Summit as Cold War Turning Point

Simon Miles, Duke University

Democracy Promotion, Neoliberalism, and the End of the Cold War

Kate Geohegan, Harvard University

Who Knew What, When: Revisiting U.S. Views of the Soviet Union at Cold War's End

Joshua R. Itzkowitz Shiffrin, Texas A&M University

1989: A Year in the Global Sovereign Debt Crisis

Fritz Bartel, Cornell University

Comment: Jeffrey A. Engel

Panel 80: Foreign Religions and Foreign Relations: U.S. Engagements with the World in the Nineteenth Century (Studio F)

Chair: Tisa Wenger, Yale University

Heathen Geographies in the Nineteenth Century

Kathryn Gin Lum, Stanford University

Foreign Missions and Foreign Information in the Early Republic

Emily Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University

Reimagining Catholic Power in the Wake of the Risorgimento

Katherine Moran, St. Louis University

Comment: Tisa Wenger

Panel 81: Patterns of U.S. Diplomacy in Northeast Asia, 1901-1972 (Salon 6)

Chair: Michael Barnhart, Stony Brook University

Russo-Japanese Agreements and the U.S. East Asian Policy, 1907-1916

Midori Yoshii, Albion College

America's Offshore Balancing toward Northeast Asia: Theodore Roosevelt and George Kennan's Approaches

Seung-Young Kim, University of Sheffield

When the Rubber Meets the Road: Policy and Implementation in Occupied Japan

Dayna Barnes, Stanford University

Entanglement and Abandonment: Bilateral Reactions to Nixon's Troop Withdrawal from South Korea

Leon Perkowski, Air Command and Staff College

Comment: Michael Barnhart

Panel 82: Domestic Politics (Korean and American) and a Bilateral Relationship (Salon 7)

Chair: Meredith Oyen, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Keeping the Cold War Cold: Korea in 1976
Nick Sarantakes, U.S. Naval War College

Syngman Rhee: Socialist
David Fields, University of Wisconsin, Madison

The Vietnam War and U.S. Credibility on the Korean Peninsula
Joeun Kim, Stanford University
Robert A. and Barbara Divine Graduate Student Travel Grant Award
“Is It for This We Fought and Bled?”: The Korean War and the Struggle for African-American Rights
Mitch Lerner, Ohio State University

Comment: Meredith Oyen

Panel 83: Uncle Sam in Japan: The U.S. Military in Postwar Japanese Society (Studio A)

Chair: Sarah Kovner, Columbia University

Militarizing Citizenship: U.S. Military Training in Postwar Japan
Jennifer Miller, Dartmouth University

Contested Alliance: Interracial Sex and Anti-American Nationalism in Japan
Kristin Roebuck, Cornell University

From Tokyo to Wounded Knee: Two Afterlives of the Sunagawa Struggle
Dustin Wright, University of California, Santa Cruz

Comment: Sarah Kovner

REFRESHMENT BREAK: 3:00 – 3:30 PM

Coffee, tea, soft drinks, bottled water, and light snacks will be served in the registration and exhibit area.

SESSION VIII: 3:30 – 5:15 PM (Panels 84-95)

Panel 84: Legacies of 1917 (Studio B)

Chair: Adriane Lentz-Smith, Duke University

The Trading with the Enemy Act and the Architecture of American Power
Benjamin Coates, Wake Forest University

One Hundred Years of the Espionage Act
Sam Lebovic, George Mason University

How to Prevent a World War: Law, Business, and the People of 1934-1938
Christopher Capozzola, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Comment: Julia Irwin, University of South Florida

Panel 85: American Zionism and U.S.-Israel Relations from the 1950s to the 1990s (Salon 2)

Chair: Peter Hahn, Ohio State University

The Origins of America's Israel Lobby, 1951-1956
Doug Rossinow, University of Oslo

City on a Hilltop: American Jews and the Israeli Settler Movement since 1967
Sara Yael Hirschhorn, Oxford University

American Jews and Arafat: Citizen Diplomacy and the PLO Recognition of Israel
Seth Anziska, University College London

Comment: Salim Yaqub, University of California, Santa Barbara

Panel 86: Race, Decolonization, and the Cold War in Africa (Salon 3)

Chair: Ryan Irwin, University of Albany, State University of New York

"The Greatest Gathering of World Leaders": Competing Internationalisms at the United Nations, 1960-1961

Vivien Chang, University of Virginia

"Bastions of White Conservatism": Segregationist Internationalism against Civil Rights and Decolonization

R. Joseph Parrott, Yale University

Nixon's Cold War in Africa: From Emerging Hot Spot to Forgotten Front
Alexander Marino, University of Arkansas

Comment: Ryan Irwin

Panel 87: The Cultural Work of War: Enlisted Civilians on the Frontlines (Salon 5)

Chair: Penny von Eschen, Cornell University

Learning Culture in Hawai'i: USAID Workers and America's "Bridge to Asia" during the Vietnam War

Sarah Miller-Davenport, University of Sheffield
SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

The Comforts of War: Anglo-American Women and War Relief in World War I

Tammy Proctor, Utah State University

Sesame Street, Scantily Clad Women, and American Gender Change in the U.S. Military

Kara Dixon Vuic, Texas Christian University

Comment: Penny von Eschen

Panel 88: Missionaries, Technicians, and Tourists: Cold War Public and Cultural Diplomacy in Action (Salon 6)

Chair: Walter Hixson, University of Akron

A Vision beyond Attainment: Some Thoughts on Why Point Four Failed in Iran

Richard Garlitz, University of Tennessee, Martin

Mormons in the Lion City: Religious Cultural Exchanges, 1968-1990

Keshia Lai, Ohio State University
SHAFR Global Scholars and Diversity Grant Award

Soft Power and American Technology in the Soviet Union

Michael Metsner, Case Western Reserve University

Tourists in Uniforms: Citizenship, Diplomacy, and the Defense Department's Cold War Pocket Guides

Scott Laderman, University of Minnesota, Duluth

Comment: Justin Hart, Texas Tech University

Panel 89: American Expansion in the Shadow of the British Empire (Salon 7)

Chair: Stephen Tuffnell, University of Oxford, St. Peter's College

"An Importance Second Only to That of Great Britain": American Involvement in the China Trade and the Rhetoric of Anglo-American Competition, 1842-1856

Matthew T. Brundage, Kent State University

“A Compliment to Great Britain and a Reproach to Other Nations”: American Views of the British Takeover of Egypt

Andrew Priest, University of Essex

The Private Structures of Anglo-American Financial Cooperation in Central American Debt Settlements, 1885-1912

David J. Shorten, Boston University

Comment: Stephen Tuffnell

Panel 90: American Power and Local Identities in East Asia, 1941-1979 (Studio A)

Chair: Jim Matray, California State University, Chico

China’s Hostel and Interpreter Programs for U.S. Forces during the Second World War, 1941-1945

Zach Fredman, Nanyang Technological University

Chinese, But Not Communist: Untangling Singapore’s Identity and U.S. Economic Diplomacy during the Cold War

Daniel Wei Boon Chua, Nanyang Technological University

Wig: The Story of a Cold War Commodity, 1958-1979

Jason Petrulis, Cal Poly Pomona

Comment: Jim Matray

Panel 91: Intelligence Fallout: Barrows, Andropov, Kennedy, and U.S.-Soviet Relations, 1918-1983 (Salon 1)

Chair: Hope Harrison, George Washington University

Great Expectations: David P. Barrows and U.S. Intervention in the Russian Civil War

Paul Behringer, American University

Yuri Andropov’s KGB and U.S.-Soviet Relations, 1977-1983

Douglas Selvage, Bundesbeauftragte für die Stasi-Unterlagen, Berlin

Community or Confederation? U.S. Intelligence under John F. Kennedy

Thomas Reinstein, Temple University

Comment: Svetlana Savranskaya, National Security Archives

Panel 92: The Discourse of Development: Exploring New Perspectives on U.S. Aid Abroad in the Early Cold War (Studio C)

Chair: Paul V. Kershaw, Wayne State University

The Dual Integration of Oil: Economic Development and the Public-Private Partnership of the Postwar Petroleum Order

Gregory Brew, Georgetown University

“Wall Street Was Working out the Means”: The State, Corporations, and Black Dissidents in the Origins of the Point Four Program

Megan Black, Harvard University

“Helping Needy People Help Themselves”: The Near East Foundation, Philanthropy, and U.S.-Iranian Relations

Ben Offiler, Sheffield Hallam University

Comment: Paul V. Kershaw

Panel 93: Evolving Spheres: Twentieth-Century Japan-U.S. Relations (Studio D)

Chair: Kristin Roebuck, Cornell University

Colonies Adrift: Japanese and American Grand Strategy and the Struggle for European Colonial Resource Scarcity in the Early Stages of the Second World War

Dawn Alexandria Berry, Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education

Policing Spheres: Japan-U.S. Prisoner Exchanges during World War II

George Kupsky, Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency

Reselecting Nuclear Policy: Kennedy, Ikeda, and U.S.-Japanese Nuclear Relations, 1961-1963

Masaki Sakamoto, Keio University

Comment: Kristin Roebuck

Panel 94: The Reagan Doctrine and Iran Contra: Nicaragua, Saudi Arabia, and Washington, D.C. (Studio E)

Chair: Kyle Longley, Arizona State University

Misguided Honor: Colin Powell, Casper Weinberger, and the Iran-Contra Scandal

Jeffrey Matthews, University of Puget Sound

The Risky Business of Rollback: Anti-Communist Americans, the Contra War, and the Reagan Doctrine

Joseph Ledford, University of California, Berkeley

Transnational Strategies: Saudi Arabian Precedents and Reagan Foreign Policy

Carl Forsberg, University of Texas

Comment: Lorena De Vita, Utrecht University

Panel 95: Roundtable: The United States and the World and the History of Capitalism (Studio F)

Chair: Bradley Simpson, University of Connecticut

Economic Thought, Quantification, and U.S. Power
Stephen Macekura, Indiana University

Dividing Lines in Twentieth-Century Political Economy
Amy Offner, University of Pennsylvania

Economic Sovereignty, the Third World, and U.S. Foreign Relations
Christy Thornton, Rowan University

White Collar Services, Decolonization, and U.S. Global Power
Betsy Beasley, Harvard University