THURSDAY, JUNE 13

10:00am–5:00pm Registration
10:00am–5:00pm Book Exhibit

9:30am–11:00am Past Presidents Brunch

10:00am–11:00am International Members Coffee Klatch

11:30am–1:00pm Session I

Panel 1: Blueprints of Empire: Underexplored Actors and Nation-Building in the Greater Caribbean

Sponsored by SHAFR’s Committee on Access, Representation, and Equity (CARE)

Chair and Comment: Justin Jackson, Bard College at Simons Rock

Kristin Hoganson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign
    Engineering American Empire in the Circum-Caribbean, 1898-1929

Graydon Dennison, Yale University
    Landed Filibusters: U.S. Citizen-Settlers and the Occupation of Panama’s Interior, 1914-1927

Micah Wright, Lincoln University
    The Origins of the Third Way: Puerto Rican Nationalism and Latin American Anti-Imperialism in the 1930s

Ian Seavey, Yale University
    Redefining Relief: The Changing Idea of Disaster and the Puerto Rican New Deal, 1933-1941

Panel 2: Reagan-Era Foreign Policy

Chair and Comment: Lisa Namikas, Baton Rouge Community College

Laila Ballout, Wichita State University
    Lebanon and Human Rights in the Reagan Era

Nicholas Sarantakes, U.S. Naval War College
    World War III in 1983: The Reagan Administration and The Day After

Panel 3: Negotiating National Interests and International Commitments: American Science and Medicine in Global Rivalries

Chair and Comment: Greg Whitesides, University of Colorado, Denver

Paul Rubinson, Bridgewater State University
The Pursuit of Scientific Justice: Vladimir Ipatieff and the U.S.-Soviet Rivalry of the 1930s
Theresa Keeley, University of Louisville
Anna Doel, Independent Scholar
The Bison Skeleton in the Mail: How American and Soviet Scientists Kept in Touch from the 1960s to the 1980s

Panel 4: Wretched Hives of Scum and Villainy? The Peripheral Cities of World War II
Chair: Brooke Blower, Boston University

Ruth Lawlor, Cornell University
Alaska at the Center of the World: The American Imperial Periphery in the Global Second World War
Elisabeth Leake, Tufts University
Casablanca of the Hindu Kush? Kabul and the “Graveyard of Empires” in World War II
Weiyu Dang, New York University
Paradigmatic Settlers in Northwestern China: Lanzhou and the Frontier of U.S. Liberal Internationalism in WWII

Comment: Jason Parker, Texas A&M University

Panel 5: Out of the Shadows: New Approaches to Intelligence History
Chair and Comment: Kaeten Mistry, University of East Anglia

Jeff Rogg, Joint Special Operations University
“The Mischiefs of Foreign Intrigue” and the Making of the First Party System
Deborah Bauer, Purdue University, Fort Wayne
Espionage, Emotions, and the Law in the Case of an American Diplomat in French Colonial Madagascar
Susan Perlman, United States Holocaust Memorial Museum
How Intelligence Becomes Policy: Rightist Factions and U.S. Intelligence in Postwar France
Hugh Wilford, California State University, Long Beach
Covert Empire: The Imperial History of the CIA

Panel 6: Roundtable: Explaining the History of American Foreign Relations
Chair: Frank Costigliola, University of Connecticut

Gretchen Heefner, Northeastern University
Ryan Irwin, University at Albany, SUNY
Christopher McKnight Nichols, The Ohio State University
Kristin Oberiano, Wesleyan University
Panel 7: Roundtable: Making the Military Work
Chair: Naoko Shibusawa, Brown University

Amy Chin, Vassar College
Patrick Chung, University of Maryland, College Park
Karen Miller, LaGuardia Community College and City University of New York
Colleen Woods, University of Maryland, College Park

Panel 8: Treat Yourself: A Roundtable on the Use (and Misuse) of Inter-Polity Agreements in Early America
Chair: Dael Norwood, University of Delaware

Heesoo Cho, Washington University, St. Louis
Rachel Herrmann, Cardiff University
Jessica Roney, Temple University

1:00pm–1:20pm Refreshment Break
Sponsored by the Bill Graham Centre for Contemporary International History

1:20pm–2:50pm Session II

Panel 9: International Ike: New Directions in Eisenhower Studies
Chair and Comment: Nicholas Sarantakes, U.S. Naval War College

Joanne Archibald, Queen’s University
Uncle Louis + Ike: Building the Canada-U.S. Defence Relationship in the 1950s
Jacklyn Majnemer, London School of Economics
Patterns of Foreign Nuclear Deployment: Understanding Host State Refusal
Christoph Huber, Ludwig Boltzmann Institute for Research on Consequences of War
The Eisenhower Administration’s View on Austrian-Soviet Trade

Panel 10: Hidden Histories of Wartime and Postwar Cultural Exchange
Chair and Comment: Scott Laderman, University of Minnesota, Duluth

Sara Fieldston, Seton Hall University
“The Buying-est Soldier in the World”: GI Tourism during World War II
Diana Lemberg, University of St. Andrews
The Transnational Renewal of Bilingual Education in the United States, 1945-1968
Michael Stamm, Michigan State University
Sweetness and Media: The Promise of Sugarcane Paper for the Developing World during the Cold War
Panel 11: U.S. Sanctions and the World
Chair and Comment: Mario Del Pero, Sciences Po

Philip Thai, Northeastern University
   American Technology for Chinese Communists: The Case of Antibiotics Exports through Cold War Hong Kong
Augusta Dell’Omo, Southern Methodist University
   The Anti-Sanction International: The Movement against the Comprehensive Anti-
   Apartheid Act, 1980-1986
Flavia Canestrini, LUISS Guido Carli
   Navigating Hegemony in a Globalized Economy: U.S. Extraterritoriality and the Case of Dresser France in 1982
Benjamin Coates, Wake Forest University
   The Office of Foreign Assets Control and the Absurd Logic of U.S. Sanctions, 1950-1970

Panel 12: Lightning Round: Commerce and Conquest in the Age of Imperialism
Chair: Brian Etheridge, Kennesaw State University

Kim Jackson, University of Colorado, Boulder
   Moral Obligation to Our Farmers: American Food Aid during World War I
Robert Diaz, University of Michigan
   The Growing Years: Lifecycle, Development, and American Imperialism in the Colonial Philippines, 1899-1920
Alejandro Adame Basilio, University of St. Andrews
   Poinsett, Diplomatic Interference, and the Myth of Poinsettismo in Mexico, 1825-1829
James Stocker, Trinity Washington University
   Pathways to Possession: Transportation, Territory, and Sovereignty in U.S.-Cherokee
   Negotiations, 1801-1837
Jonas Anderson, Universität der Bundeswehr München
   Imperial Free Riders: American Adventurers and European Colonial Rule in Africa

Panel 13: Transimperial Histories of Energy
Chair: Daniel Immerwahr, Northwestern University

Elizabeth Chatterjee, University of Chicago
   Transimperialism after Empire? The “New Great Game” over Aid and Asian Power
   Stations, 1973–1992
Minseok Jang, University at Albany, SUNY
   The Transimperial Origin of the U.S. Petroleum Industry
Trish Kahle, Georgetown University, Qatar
   Imperial Seams in the Global Cold War: Bringing Coal back into the History of the Twentieth Century
Comment: Karine Walther, Georgetown University, Qatar

Panel 14: Roundtable: Diplomatic History and the Climate Emergency
Chair: Julia F. Irwin, Louisiana State University

Kurk Dorsey, University of New Hampshire
Astrid M. Eckert, Emory University
Victor McFarland, University of Missouri
Michael Franczak, International Peace Institute
Stephen Macekura, Indiana University

Panel 15: Roundtable: Edward Said and American Foreign Relations
Sponsored by SHAFR’s Committee on Access, Representation, and Equity (CARE)
Chair: Melani McAlister, George Washington University

Arash Azizi, Clemson University
Sarah Gualtieri, University of Southern California
Alex Hobson, Wake Forest University
Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet, University of Pennsylvania
Paul Kramer, Vanderbilt University
Andrew Rotter, Colgate University

Panel 16: American Conservatives’ Reactions and Perspectives on East Asian Affairs
Chair and Comment: Andrew Johnstone, University of Leicester

Brandon Willadsen, Texas A&M University
   Confrontation or Restraint? The Divergent Perspectives between Republican Hawks and Pragmatists on China and Taiwan
Jeffrey Crean, Tyler Junior College
   Détente’s Discontents: Walter Judd Loses Tricky Dick
Paxton Stover, Kansas State University
   Anti-Communism and the “China Question”: McCarthyism and U.S. Asian Policy in the Late 1940s through the 1950s

Panel 17: Fishbowl: New Studies of United States Empire
Moderator: Kariann Yokota, University of Colorado, Denver

Wendell Nii Laryea Adjetey, McGill University
Jilene Chua, Boston University
Kaysha Corinealdi, Emerson College
Kristin Oberiano, Wesleyan University
Joy Sales, California State University, Los Angeles
2:50pm–3:10pm Refreshment Break

3:10pm–4:40pm Session III

Panel 18: Roundtable: Teaching American Foreign Relations in Different Institutional Contexts
Sponsored by SHAFR’s Teaching Committee
Chair: Kelly McFarland, Georgetown University

Brian Etheridge, Kennesaw State University
Justin Hart, Texas Tech University
Molly M. Wood, Wittenberg University

Panel 19: Roundtable: Collaborative Work: Why Historians Don’t Do It Enough and How We Can Do It More and Better
Chair: Christopher McKnight Nichols, The Ohio State University

Elisabeth Leake, Tufts University
Erez Manela, Harvard University
Heather Salter, Northeastern University

Panel 20: Intelligence and the Global Cold War: The CIA in Intellectual, Political, and Transnational Contexts
Chair: Andrew Preston, University of Cambridge

Alex Ferguson, University of Sheffield
“I Hate to Admit This, because He’s a Real S.O.B., but What They Need There Is a Rhee”: The Rhee Analogy, a Failed Coup, and the Origins of the U.S.-Diem Alliance, 1954-1955
Ronan Mainprize, University of Warwick
A World of Trouble: Lyndon Johnson, the CIA, and Crisis in the Global South
Brian Cuddy, Macquarie University
Truth or Reconciliation? Intelligence Inquiries and the Question of Public Trust, 1975-1985

Comment: Sarah-Jane Corke, University of New Brunswick

Panel 21: Roundtable: The U.S. Navy in the Pacific: Popular Reactions at Home and Abroad from Mahan to the Atomic Age
Chair: Dayna Barnes, National Defense University

Hal Friedman, Henry Ford College
Toshihiro Higuchi, Georgetown University
Panel 22: Fishbowl: Rethinking Histories of International Order
Moderator: Francine McKenzie, University of Western Ontario

Caroline Dunton, Queen’s University
Cindy Ewing, University of Toronto
Dan Gorman, University of Waterloo
Samuel Helfont, Naval Postgraduate School
Jamie Martin, Harvard University
Lydia Walker, The Ohio State University

Panel 23: Roundtable: From Tourism to Activism: U.S.-Latin American Transnational Exchange in the Late Twentieth Century
Chair: María Cristina García, Cornell University

Jason G. Fontana, University of Miami
William C. Hogue, Fordham University
Ryan Metz, The Ohio State University

Panel 24: The Habitat of Empire: How Environments Shaped U.S. Power and Vice Versa
Chair and Comment: Gretchen Heefner, Northeastern University

Dario Fazzi, Leiden University and Roosevelt Institute for American Studies
    Flows of Power: The U.S. Empire and the Global Waters
Daniel Immerwahr, Northwestern University
    The Combustible Environment of Settler Colonialism
Julia F. Irwin, Louisiana State University
    Calamity and Contingency: Natural Hazards and U.S. Foreign Policy Planning in the Cold War World
Boyd Ruamcharoen, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
    Deteriorating Relations, Enduring Power: U.S. Power and an Environmental History of Material Decay and Durability

Panel 25: Lightning Round: Recasting Africa in the American Century
Chair: Manna Duah, North Carolina Central University

Ayelet Marron, Rutgers University
    American "Relief" in Occupied North Africa, WWII: Asserting a Moral Contract of Liberation in a French Colonial Space
Daniel Manulak, Harvard University
    Angels and Demons: The African National Congress and its Struggle for Global Legitimacy
Miguel Bandeira Jeronimo, University of Coimbra
Development and the Politics of Interimperial and International Organizations in the 1950s
Margaret Gregory, Texas A&M University
The Rhodesian Information Office: A Worldwide Propaganda Campaign
Yonathan Taye, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
Katanga's “Lost Cause”: The U.S., the Congo, and White Internationalism in Africa, 1960–63

5:00pm–6:30pm Plenary
Using Canadian Archives to Write International and U.S. Foreign Relations History
Sponsored by SHAFR’s Committee on Historical Documentation

Moderator: Grant Golub, U.S. Army War College

Discussants:
Susan Colbourn, Duke University
Lisa Komar, Historical Section at Global Affairs Canada
Francine McKenzie, Western University
Asa McKercher, Royal Military College of Canada

6:30pm–8:00pm Welcome Reception
FRIDAY, JUNE 14

8:00am–4:30pm Registration
8:00am–5:00pm Book Exhibit

8:00am–9:00am Breakfast

8:00am–9:00am Diplomatic History Editorial Board Breakfast

8:00am–9:00am Graduate Student Town Hall Breakfast

9:00am–10:00am Mini-Plenary
The U.S. Foreign Service at 100: Reflections from Practitioners and Historians
Moderator: Nicole M. Phelps, University of Vermont

Discussions:
Baxter Hunt, U.S. Consul General in Toronto
Harry W. Kopp, Writer and former FSO
Molly M. Wood, Wittenberg University

10:00am–10:15am Refreshment Break

10:15am–11:45am Session IV

Panel 26: Roundtable: The United States, Europe, and the Russia-Ukraine War
Chair: Peter Hahn, The Ohio State University

Mario Del Pero, Sciences Po
Simon Miles, Duke University
Andrew Preston, University of Cambridge
Alexandria Sukalo, Naval Postgraduate School

Panel 27: Fishbowl: New International Histories of the Sandinista Revolution
Moderator: Michelle Chase, Pace University

Hilary Francis, Northumbria University
Mateo Jarquín, Chapman University
David Johnson Lee, Rutgers University
Eline van Ommen, University of Leeds
Gerardo Sánchez Nateras, Centro de Investigación y Docencia Económicas
Emily Snyder, University of Cambridge

Panel 28: Incompetent Imperialists: Failures and Fraudsters in the Making of America’s Early Empire
Chair and Comment: Emily Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University

Konstantin Dierks, Indiana University
White Colonizationists, Black Emigrationists, and Imperial Dreams in Antebellum America

Lindsay Schakenbach Regele, Miami University
An Inauspicious Start to Putting the Monroe Doctrine into Practice: Joel Roberts Poinsett in Mexico, 1825-1830

Brian Rouleau, Texas A&M University
Killing Mr. Renton, or, How to Turn a Murder into an International Incident

Panel 29: Roundtable: Veterans, Environmentalists, and Urban Activists: International Organizations in the Late Twentieth Century
Chair: David Milne, University of East Anglia

Megan Black, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Sarah Miller-Davenport, Columbia University
Shaul Mitelpunkt, University of York

Chair and Comment: Stephen Buono, University of Chicago

Benjamin Wilson, Harvard University
The Concealment of Conflict: Eisenhower’s Scientific-Technological Elite, Defense Contracting, and Strategic Arms Control Policy

Richard V. Damms, Mississippi State University, Meridian
The Ubiquitous “Dr.” Killian: Science-Statesmanship in the Eisenhower Era

Michael Schaefer, Washington University in St. Louis
Fear of a “Scientific-Technological Elite”: Current Concerns in Light of Eisenhower’s Initial Conception

Zoe Mason, University of Toronto
Objectivity, Outer Space, and the Scientific-Technological Elite

Panel 31: Hidden Histories of Canadian-American International Cooperation, 1940-1970
Chair and Comment: Michael Stevenson, Lakehead University

Katherine Rossy, Royal Military College of Canada
A Forgotten Partnership: Canadian-American Cooperation and Early U.N. Humanitarianism in the Post-War World, 1943-1947
Asa McKercher, Royal Military College of Canada
“We’re in for a Sticky Time”: Lester B. Pearson and the Dilemmas of American Power
Kevin Brushett, Royal Military College of Canada
“Behind the Canadians All the Way?” Canadian-American Cooperation on Foreign Assistance during the First Development Decade

Panel 32: Diplomatic Encounters and Public Perceptions: Cold War Politics between the U.S., PRC, and Korean Peninsula
Chair and Comment: Gregg Brazinsky, George Washington University

Anatol Klass, University of California, Berkeley
“The Peking Formula”: International Law, the United Nations, and Chinese Sovereignty during the Korean War
Emily Matson, Georgetown University
Complicity and the Cold War: The Long Shadow of Unit 731 in Sino-U.S. Relations
Mina Lee, University of Virginia
Atoms for What?: The United States’ Scientific Internationalism and South Korean Developmentalism

Panel 33: Cuisine and Diplomacy: History of American Foreign Relations through Food, 1869–1965
Chair and Comment: Sarah B. Snyder, American University

Lucy E. Salyer, University of New Hampshire
Nations at the Table: Food and Foreign Relations, 1869-1900
Heather Ruth Lee, New York University, Shanghai
Gastrodiplomacy: A Case for Non-State Actors
R. Alexander Orquiza, Providence College
“The Hiker”: Re-casting America’s First War for Empire Abroad
Audrey Russek, University of California, Davis
Tabling Civil Rights: Restaurants, Racial Discrimination, and U.S. Cold War Foreign Policy

Panel 34: Lightning Round: The Human Costs of Cold War Order
Chair: Michael Cude, Schreiner University

Audrius Rickus, University of Virginia
Facing the Polycrisis of the 1970s: France’s Pursuit of an Equitable Postcolonial International Economy
José Pedro Monteiro, University of Minho
A Contested Concept: Self-Determination and Colonial Powers’ Resistance to Decolonization, 1945-1965
Charles Laubach, The Ohio State University
Finding an Endgame: The Clinton Administration’s Policy Decisions to End the Bosnian War

John Perry, University of South Florida

Ida Yalzadeh, Lehigh University
Localized Policing, Globalized Forces: Civilian Abuse of Iranian Foreign Nationals in the 1980s

12:00pm–1:30pm Presidential Address and Awards Luncheon
Korea and American Diplomatic History Historians
Mitchell Lerner, The Ohio State University

1:45pm–3:15pm Session V
Panel 35: The Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act: A 20th-Anniversary Retrospective
Chair: Richard Immerman, Temple University

Sarah-Jane Corke, University of New Brunswick
“A Hell of a Choice”: John Negroponte as America’s First DNI

Michael Miner, Harvard University
Nonlinear Reform: Tracing the Historical Idea of the DNI

Michael Warner, U.S. Department of Defense
Myths and Legends of the IRTPA

Comment: Janice Stein, University of Toronto

Panel 36: Roundtable: Microhistory and the “U.S. and the World”
Chair: Nora Lessersohn, Harvard University

Brooke Blower, Boston University
Emily Conroy-Krutz, Michigan State University
Nicole M. Phelps, University of Vermont
Stephen Tuffnell, University of Oxford

Panel 37: Globalizing Third Worldism
Sponsored by the Non-Aligned News Research Partnership (NANReP)
Chair: Vanessa Freije, University of Washington

Ryan Glauser, University of Michigan
Kéba Mbaye: Third Worldist, Neocolonialist, Neoliberal?
Stephen Westlake, Independent Scholar
Navigating NWICO at the BBC: Revisiting Britain’s Relationship with UNESCO and the World Press Freedom Committee, 1976-1985
Harris Ford, University of Saskatchewan
Decolonizing News Globally: The Inter Press Service and the Third World, 1972-1984

Comment: Vivien Chang, Yale University

Panel 38: Roundtable: War, Morality, and Presidential Leadership
Chair: Raymond Haberski Jr., Indiana University, Indianapolis

Zachary Jacobson, Indiana University, Indianapolis
Marc Selverstone, University of Virginia
Lauren Turek, Trinity University

Panel 39: Not Merely a “Kitchen Debate”: Recognizing the Importance of Gender, Culture, and Foreign Policy in the Soviet Union before, during, and after 1959
Chair and Comment: Kathryn Statler, University of San Diego

Alexis Peri, Boston University
Hidden in Plain Sight: Finding American and Soviet Women in the Archives and in Foreign Relations
Diana Cucuz, University of Toronto
Tearing Down the Iron Curtain, One Woman at a Time: Freedom, Femininity, and Consumption at the American National Exhibition in Moscow, 1959
Thomas Ellis, University of Birmingham
Peopling Outer Space: Gender in Cold War Space Race Discourse

Chair: Samuel Helfont, U.S. Naval War College

Daniel Chardell, Yale University
Joseph Stieb, U.S. Naval War College
Kate Tietzen-Wisdom, U.S. Army Center for Military History

Panel 41: Hong Kong, the United States, and Uneven Geographies of the Cold War
Chair and Comment: Jeffrey Crean, Tyler Junior College

Charles Fung, Stony Brook University
Negotiating for Development: The American Factor in Cold War Hong Kong’s Economic Take-Off in the 1950s
Quinton Huang, University of British Columbia
Broken Rice and Self-Help Packages: Regional Economies of Humanitarian Aid in 1950s Hong Kong and East Asia
John D. Wong, University of Hong Kong
A Spigot at the Bamboo Curtain: Migrant Control along the Hong Kong-Mainland Border, 1940s to 1980s

Panel 42: The United States and Africa
Chair: Mike Creswell, Florida State University
Lisa Namikas, Baton Rouge Community College
  Security and Human Rights: U.S. Relations with Eritrea
R. Joseph Parrott, The Ohio State University
  Allies of Necessity: Rhodesia and America’s Radical Fringe
Manna Duah, North Carolina Central University

Comment: Ryan M. Irwin, University at Albany, SUNY

Panel 43: SHAFR’s Partnership with the Council on Foreign Relations to Survey and Rank Best and Worst U.S. Foreign Policy Decisions

3:15pm–3:40pm Refreshment Break
Sponsored by UNC Press’s InterConnections series

3:40pm–5:10pm Session VI

Panel 44: Internationalism at Work
Chair and Comment: Tejasvi Nagaraja, Cornell University
Mattie C. Webb, Yale University
  Black Consciousness in the Workplace: MACWUSA and Political Trade Unionism
Joshua Stern, Temple University
  A Treaty of Detroit for the Americas: Apolitical Unionism and the Inter-American Industrial Relations Regime
Jordan Howell, University of Manitoba
  Global Operation Dixie: Aluminum Workers in the American South and Caribbean

Panel 45: Roundtable: In and Out: Non-U.S. Specialists at SHAFR
Chair: Thomas Field, Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University
Vivien Chang, Yale University
Alessandro Iandolo, University College London
Ilaria Scaglia, Aston University

Panel 46: Gendering the Transimperial History of U.S. Wars and Occupations
Chair and Comment: Brian Goodman, Arizona State University

Justin Jackson, Bard College at Simon’s Rock
Sexual Occupations: Reproducing Labor and Sovereignty between Cuba and the Philippines in the U.S. Empire of 1898
Eva Payne, University of Mississippi
French Women, United States Soldiers, and the Fight for Sexual Civilization
Jeongmin Kim, University of Manitoba
A Mundane History of the Cold War Archives: The U.S. Military’s Sexual Regulations and Deregulated Sexual Markets in Korea and Japan during the Korean War

Panel 47: Anglo-American Imperial Thought and the Nineteenth-Century Mediterranean World
Chair and Comment: Nicole M. Phelps, University of Vermont

Maureen Connors Santelli, Northern Virginia Community College
Stacy E. Holden, Purdue University
The Mediterranean Imaginary of Edith Wharton
Andrew Priest, University of Essex
Ancient Egypt in Modern America: Amelia B. Edwards in the United States

Chair: Stephen Macekura, Indiana University, Bloomington

Samuel Beroud, Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute
Sara Lorenzini, School of International Studies, University of Trento
Christian Ruth, Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute

Panel 49: Searching for International Order during the Interwar and Wartime Years
Chair and Comment: Amy L. Sayward, Middle Tennessee State University

Sarah C. Dunstan, University of Glasgow
Saving Western Civilization: PEP, UNESCO, and a Planned World Order, 1931-1950
Talbot Imlay, Université Laval
Eugene Staley, Peaceful Change, and the Origins of Economic Development during the 1930s
Peter Jackson, University of Glasgow
Woodrow Wilson and the Challenges of Power and World Order at the Paris Peace Conference
Sakiko Kaiga, Hiroshima University

Panel 50: Extracting Labor in the U.S. Empire’s Long Twentieth Century
Chair and Comment: Jason Colby, University of Victoria

Oli Charbonneau, University of Glasgow
Kamchatkan Reindeer and Mountain Houses: Globally Constituting U.S. Colonial Labor in the 1890s
Sarah Steinbock-Pratt, University of Alabama
“A Good Prison is Like a School”: Industrial Education in Schools and Prisons in the Philippines
Jayita Sarkar, University of Glasgow
Uranium Rush from Colorado to Swakopmund: Labor Rights and U.S. Empire in the 1970s

Panel 51: The United States and the International Nuclear Nonproliferation Regime
Chair and Comment: Jacklyn Majnemer, London School of Economics

Katie Davis, University of Toronto
Austin R. Cooper, Purdue University
A “Further Nuclear Offer” to de Gaulle? John F. Kennedy’s Interrupted Quest for French Adherence to the Partial Test Ban Treaty in 1963
Jonathan R. Hunt, U.S. Naval War College
“The Socialist Camp Loses Nothing”: The Soviet Union, the Warsaw Pact, and the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons

Panel 52: Diplomacy on Draught: A Roundtable on Alcohol and the History of U.S. Foreign Relations
Chair: Ian Seavey, Yale University

Lisa Lindquist Dorr, University of Alabama
Kaete O’Connell, Yale University
Jeffrey Pilcher, University of Toronto, Scarborough

6:00pm–9:00pm Social Event at Spadina House and Museum
SATURDAY, JUNE 15

8:00am–2:00pm Registration
8:00am–2:00pm Book Exhibit

8:00am–9:00am Breakfast

8:00am–9:00am Women in SHAFR Breakfast

9:00am–10:00am Professional Development Sessions

Session I: Peer Mentoring (Mentors and Mentees)
Sponsored by the Committee of Women in SHAFR
Moderator: Ilaria Scaglia, Aston University

Brooke Blower, Boston University
Aileen Teague, Texas A&M University
Chris Hulshof, University of Wisconsin, Madison
Colleen Woods, University of Maryland, College Park

Session II: The Art of Peer Review
Moderator: Meredith Oyen, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Debbie Gershenowitz, University of North Carolina Press
Petra Goedde, Temple University and Diplomatic History
Bradley Simpson, University of Connecticut

10:00am–10:15am Refreshment Break

10:15am–11:45am Session VII

Panel 53: How to Interpret and Reform the Secrecy System
Chair and Comment: Kathryn J. McGarr, University of Wisconsin, Madison

Kaeten Mistry, University of East Anglia
Unauthorized Disclosures
Sam Lebovic, George Mason University
The Classification System
Ramya Krishnan, Knight First Amendment Institute
Prepublication Review
Sponsored by SHAFR’s Committee on Access, Representation, and Equity (CARE)
Chair: Lauren Hirshberg, Regis University

 Emilie Connolly, Brandeis University
 American Insecurities: State Fiscal Crisis and Fiduciary Colonialism
 Allison Powers Useche, University of Wisconsin, Madison
 Defining Dispossession: Arbitration and the Transformation of Sovereign Debt
 Emma Teitelman, McGill University
 Property, Territory, and Capital Mobility across the U.S.-Mexico Border

Comment: Amy Offner, University of Pennsylvania

Panel 55: Lightning Round: America’s Vision of Progress in Asia
Chair: Meredith Oyen, University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Mark Tseng-Putterman, Brown University
 At the Vanguard of Friendship: Chinese Americans and the Movement for U.S.-China Normalization
Masami Kimura, Tokyo University of Foreign Studies
 Ideological Foundations of Postwar U.S.-Japan Relations: Democracy and Liberal Internationalism
Alexandra Southgate, Temple University
 “A Labour of Love in War-Time”: Quaker Aid to Vietnam, 1963-1971
Gabrielle Westcott, University of Connecticut
 The Johnson Treatment: LBJ’s Body, Sensory Experience, and the Vietnam War

Panel 56: New Approaches to the History of the United States in Latin America during the 1960s and 1970s
Chair and Comment: Evan McCormick, Columbia University

Thomas Field, Embry Riddle Aeronautical University
 The Art of Not Intervening: Che Guevara’s 1967 Uprising and Washington’s Avoidance of an Andean Vietnam
Sergio Infante, Yale University
 Men and Crabs: Reckoning with Economic and Demographic “Surplus” in Cold War Brazil
Aileen Teague, Texas A&M University
 Turning the Tide: The Final Push to the Negotiating Table, 1977-1978

Chair: Mary Dudziak, Emory University
Sally Burt, University of New South Wales, Canberra
Jason Gully, Kent State University
Benjamin Lizzy, Marquette University
Ron Pruessen, University of Toronto

Panel 58: The Generation that Never Arrived: Thinking Otherwise about the Wisconsin School of the 1950s
Chair: David Green, Cornell University
Susan A. Brewer, University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point
Lloyd C. Gardner, Rutgers University
William O. Walker III, University of Toronto

Panel 59: Roundtable: The U.S. and Palestine: Policy, Protest, and Academia
Chair: Karine Walther, Georgetown University, Qatar
Sara Awartani, University of Michigan
Alex Lubin, Pennsylvania State University
Melani McAlister, George Washington University
Alejandro Paz, University of Toronto
Doug Rossinow, Metropolitan State University

12:00pm–1:30pm Bernath Lecture Luncheon and Awards
Empire Underground: The Stakes of U.S. Claims to Vertical Power
Megan Black, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

1:45pm–3:15pm Session VIII
Panel 60: Anthropocene Histories of the U.S. in the World
Chair and Comment: Megan Black, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Evan Bonney, Sciences Po
Agents of the Anthropocene: Foresters and the Creation of the U.S. Environmental Management State in the Age of Empire, 1896-1914
Emma Herman, Harvard University
Properties of Empire: Environmental Histories of Law in Indian Territory and Oklahoma, 1890-1920
Colleen Lanier-Christensen, Harvard University
Trading Toxins: The Globalization of Chemical Risk at the OECD
Dante LaRiccia, Yale University
Panel 61: Blaming the Messenger: The Role of Government Officials and Diplomats in Poor Bilateral Relationships in the Twentieth Century
Chair and Comment: Lauren Turek, Trinity University

Sally Burt, University of New South Wales, Canberra
The Personal Touch: Leaders Bypassing the Ambassadors in Sino-U.S. Diplomacy in World War II

Richard Dunley, University of New South Wales, Canberra
“A Gulf which No Words Can Bridge”: The Breakdown of Trust in Diplomatic Representatives in the Anglo-American Relationship, 1914-1917

Zachary Logsdon, Purdue University
Jekyll and Hyde of the Imperial Body Politic: American Governors and Anti-Colonial Tensions in Puerto Rico, 1918-1923

Chair and Comment: Elizabeth O’Brien Ingleson, London School of Economics

David C. Atkinson, Purdue University
The World in the U.S.: Imports and the Development of the Modern United States

You Lan, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign
“White Peril”: The Chinese Diaspora’s Response to the Accusations of Sexual Deviancy in San Francisco’s Chinatown

Andrew Bell, Oberlin College
Excavating Empire: Archaeologists and American Foreign Relations, 1879-1945

Panel 63: Roundtable: Human Rights in the Global Cold War
Chair: Bradley Simpson, University of Connecticut

Samuel Rogers, University of Kansas
Ryan J. Singsank, Independent Scholar
Zachary Tayler, Ohio University
Elizabeth White, University of the West of England

Panel 64: Agency, Personality, and Theater Nuclear Politics in the 1970s
Chair and Comment: Beth Fischer, University of Toronto

Andrea Chiampan, University of Toronto and Ca’ Foscari Venice
James R. Schlesinger, Henry Jackson, and the Heterogeneous Engineering of the Cruise Missile
Susan Colbourn, Duke University
Helmut Schmidt and the Dangers of a Skeptical Germany
Luke Griffith, New Mexico Junior College
Neither “Mad Dogs” nor “Reluctant Dragons”: David Aaron and the Dual-Track Decision

Panel 65: Paradox of U.S. Foreign Policy: Democratic Ideals and Authoritarian Allies
Chair and Comment: Subho Basu, McGill University

M. M. Azizul Islam Rasel, McGill University
Red Insurrection, Cold War, and the Counter-Insurgency Program in the Early Years of Pakistan: East Pakistan, c. 1947-1960
Md Niamot Ali, Florida Atlantic University
The Role of the USA in the Liberation War of Bangladesh and the 1971 Genocide: An Analysis in the Post-Cold War Era
Md Showkot Ali, University of Nebraska, Omaha
From Advocacy to Action: Senator Kennedy's Impact on Halting U.S. Arms Aid to Pakistan during the Bangladesh Liberation War

Chair: Jay Sexton, University of Missouri

Jeannette Eileen Jones, University of Nebraska, Lincoln
From New England Brahmin to Plantation Master: The Transimperial Voyages, Migration, and Life of “Dr. Wilson,” 1865-1920
Nathan Cardon, University of Birmingham
“On Wheels around the World”: Transimperial Travel before the Automobile
Nora Lessersohn, Harvard University
Man in Motion: The Ottoman Deportation, American Migration, and Soviet Vacation of an Armenian Christian Shoemaker, 1886-1963

Comment: Stephen Tufnell, University of Oxford

Panel 67: Lightning Round: Progress as a Tool of America’s Empire
Chair: Andrew Kirkendall, Texas A&M University

Andrew DeFabio, United States Military Academy
The U.S. Invasion of the Dominican Republic: From Cooperation to Conquest
Mushaid Hussain, Cornell University; and Zhe Yu Lee, University of Wisconsin, Madison
Globalizing American Social Science: Epistemic Networks and the Politics of Cold War Rural Development
Kaitlin Simpson, University of Tennessee, Knoxville
An Imported Rose Would Smell as Sweet: Colombian and U.S. Flower Growers in the Battle to Control the U.S. Cut Flower Market
Douglas Sheflin, Colorado State University
Engineering Manifest Destiny: Environment, Empire, and the Army Corps of Topographical Engineers

3:15pm–3:30pm Refreshment Break

3:30pm–5:00pm Session IX

Panel 68: The New World Information and Communications Order
Sponsored by the Non-Aligned News Research Partnership (NANReP)
Chair and Comment: Zoe LeBlanc, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign

Vanessa Freije, University of Washington
   Outer Space Satellites and the Problem of Information Sovereignty: NWICO Debates in Latin America

Pedro Aguiar, Universidade Federal Fluminense
   Decolonial before It Was Cool: Conflicting Views on Journalism through the Global South in the Non-Aligned News Agencies Pool

Sarah Nelson, Leiden University

Paul Stubbs, The Institute of Economics, Zagreb
   The United Nations and the Global South in the Long 1970s: From the NIEO to NWICO

Panel 69: Space, Race, and the Global South at the U.N.
Chair: Maurice Labelle, University of Saskatchewan

Pasuth Thothaveesansuk, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
   The Hall of Peace: Global Governance in Cold War Bangkok, 1946-1967

Dexter Fergie, Northwestern University
   Black Diplomats, American Racism, and the U.N., 1946-1965

Siobhán Amelia Smith, European University Institute
   U.N. Parameters Redefined: Southern Rhodesia as a “Non-Self-Governing Territory” in the U.N. Special Committee on Decolonization, 1962

Comment: Lydia Walker, The Ohio State University

Panel 70: Diplomacy in Cold War Asia
Chair and Comment: Grant Golub, U.S. Army War College

Pierre Asselin, San Diego State University
   Art as a Weapon: Vietnamese Communist Cultural Diplomacy in the American War

Patrick Bratton, U.S. Army War College
Nehru’s Man in Peking: K. M. Panikkar in China
Alex Marino, U.S. Army War College
Following Nixon to China: Angola, Zaire, and the People’s Republic of China
Samantha Taylor, Air Command and Staff College and John Hopkins University
Transitioning America’s Asia Foreign Policy after the Cold War

Panel 71: Roundtable: Pan-America and Pan-Americanisms
Chair: Aileen Teague, Texas A&M University
Juan Pablo Scarfi, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile
Mark Petersen, University of Dallas
Eric Rutkow, University of Central Florida

Chair: Sam Lebovic, George Mason University
Eddie Bonilla, Boston College
Charisse Burden-Stelly, Wayne State University
Katherine Bynum, Arizona State University

Panel 73: Anti-Americanism, the West, and the Global South: Cold War Perspectives
Chair and Comment: Giacomo Chiozza, American University of Sharjah
Alessandro Brogi, University of Arkansas
J. William Fulbright and the West: Reconsidering Anti-Americanism
Valentine Lomellini, University of Padua
“Bettiino, the Anti-American”: The U.S., Italy, and the Sigonella Crisis
Marco Gualtieri, University of Urbino
Anti-Americanism through Mass Culture: The USA and the Italian Communist Party in the 1980s: The End of Taboos

Panel 74: Nonstate Agents and U.S. Power in Transimperial Spaces
Chair and Comment: Kristin Hoganson, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign
Darius Wainwright, University of Bristol
Showcasing America, Promoting Iran: The Smithsonian Institute and Iran, 1965-1970
Thomas M. Larkin, University of Prince Edward Island
Pious and Patriotic: Writing Turn-of-the-Century China for the American Audience
Sarah B. Snyder, American University
From Independent to Sponsored: How Overseas American Institutions Gained U.S. Support in the Early Cold War

Panel 75: Roundtable: Exploring the "Emotional Turn": Building Collaborative Efforts
Chair: Ronald W. Pruessen, University of Toronto
William McFadden, University of Toronto
Will Riddell, University of Toronto
Candace Sobers, Carleton University
Matthieu Vallieres, Independent Scholar

Panel 76: Roundtable: Reordering the Twentieth-Century Global Economy
Chair: Christopher Dietrich, Fordham University

Fritz Bartel, Texas A&M University
Nicole de Silva, Union College, New York
Elizabeth O’Brien Ingleson, London School of Economics
Marc-William Palen, University of Exeter